

Get connected. Get involved.

Our collective impact.

Dietitians Australia's state and territory Branches and Interest Groups bring members together to share knowledge, support innovation and strengthen our profession.

These communities are your place to collaborate with peers, exchange ideas, and stay across developments in your area of practice.

Whether you want to advance your clinical skills, contribute to advocacy, explore emerging research, or simply build your professional network, there is a Branch or Interest Group ready to welcome you.

Why get involved?

- Build strong connections with dietitians across Australia
- Access peer support and shared expertise
- Contribute to professional development and thought leadership
- Influence local initiatives and activities
- Stay informed about opportunities, events, and advocacy work

Join a group that aligns with your interests and help shape the future of dietetics.

Dietitians Australia Interest Groups

Adverse Food Reactions (AFRIG)	HIV/AIDS (HIVIG)
Bariatric Surgery (BSIG)	Indigenous Nutrition (INDIG)
Cardiology (CIG)	Ketogenic Diet (KETOIG)
Corporate Nutrition (CNIG)	Kidney (KIG)
Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CALD)	LGBTIQA+ (LGBIG)
Diabetes (DIABIG)	Male Nutrition (MHIG)
Dietetic Educators (DEIG)	Mental Health (MHIG)
Dietitians in Digital Health (DDHIG)	Nutrition Support (NSIG)
Dietitians in Management (DIMIG)	Nutritional Genomics (NGIG)
Dietitians in the Private Sector (DIPSIG)	Oncology (ONCIG)
Disability (DIG)	Paediatric and Maternal Health (PMHIG)
Eating Disorders (EDIG)	Polycystic Ovarian Syndrome (PCOSIG)
Emerging Dietitians (EMERGIG)	Public Health and Community Nutrition (PHCNIG)
Food and Environment (FEIG)	Rehabilitation and Aged Care (RACIG)
Food Composition (FCIG)	Research (RESIG)
Food Service (FSIG)	Rural Regional and Remote (RRRIG)
Gastroenterology (GIG)	Vegetarian Nutrition (VEGOIG)
Health Behaviour and Weight Management (HBWMIG)	Working Overseas (WOIG)

Dietitians Australia Branches

Australian Capital Territory	South Australia
New South Wales	Tasmania
Northern Territory	Victoria
Queensland	Western Australia

Join your local Branch or any Interest Group via

